BELOTERO® REVIVE

WHY DO YOU NEED A SKIN REVITALISER?

In this ever-evolving digital world, our standards of beauty have changed. There's a focus on always looking immaculate, youthful and flawless by filtering and altering the pictures we post online. At the same time, our busy, and often stressful, everyday lives diminish the vibrancy of the skin, making it appear tired and dull, causing it to prematurely age.

We all want to take care of our skin but don't always make the time. While filters still reign strong, more and more people want a natural appearance, a way to boost their skin's smoothness, firmness and hydration, so they look and feel their best off camera too.

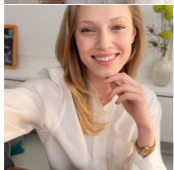

The good news is, we've something to help.

Prevention and early intervention is key. Take the next steps to developing your individual treatment plan.

- 1 Find a healthcare practitioner you can trust
It's essential you trust and have a good relationship with your healthcare practitioner, ensuring they understand you and your aesthetic concerns.
- 2 Attend your consultation
Be sure to tell your aesthetic practitioner of any allergies you have or medication you are taking.
- 3 Create a unique treatment plan based on your skin's needs
Take time to understand what treatments are being offered and feel free to ask questions to ensure it is the right plan for you.
- 4 Have the treatment
Treatments typically lasts less than one hour, and you can return to your day immediately after treatment, but we recommend first resting a little.
- 5 Book your follow up appointment
No dedicated recovery time is needed, but avoid direct sun, sauna visits and intensive sport sessions. It is always good to have a follow up appointment booked in before you leave to assess your treatment outcomes.
